VENUE

TOMSK, one of the oldest Siberian towns, was founded in 1604 on the high upper bank of the Tom River. It is a historical city, with a present population of 620,000. Houses decorated with wooden lace, gold-plated church domes – the beauty of the streets earns for Tomsk its reputation as a historical center of Siberia. However, despite its venerable age, Tomsk appears youthful thanks to the students and young scientists. Nowadays, there are ten academic institutes and six universities in Tomsk. The oldest, Tomsk State University, has brought the glory of “Siberian Athens” to the city. Modern Tomsk is a large, generally acknowledged Russian educational and research center. Tomsk-based experts have made a valuable contribution in the advancement of electronics, precision mechanical engineering and metal working, up-to-date building industries, and automatization production.

As one of the oldest cities in Siberia, Tomsk offers many architectural monuments to the past, as well as distinctive wooden houses decorated by wood-carving. There exist numerous historical, cultural and architectural landmarks drawing visitor's attention. Like a magnet it attracts the best people of each epoch. More about Tomsk may be learned at Web site www.tomsk.net, starina.tomsk.ru, and tomskhistory.lib.tomsk.ru where virtual excursion proposed.

Discover Tomsk, a modern renaissance city where history and wooden houses meets innovation and culture.

The venue of SIBCON is Tomsk State University of Control Systems and Radioelectronics. TUSUR is the modern, dynamically developing university, one of leaders in system of Russian high education on electronics. TUSUR is included into QS World University Rankings EECA as 26 leading universities of the Russian universities.

There are 12 faculties and 34 departments in TUSUR. Training is carried out by 60 programs. There are more than

12000 BS students, MS and Ph.D students. TUSUR design about 80 % scientific and research results in Tomsk Region. More detailed information about TUSUR please
